Central Communication Services was founded to help people set up video conference or audio conference links, even at short notice. People have always had difficulties when they have tried to find a company who can provide temporary video conferences or audio conference links for conferences, meetings, seminars or events, or the maintenance of video conference equipment without having to commit themselves to a lengthy and inflexible maintenance agreement. Central Communication Services are able to supply equipment for hire as well as the engineering support to accompany and operate the equipment. We will always be delighted to give you independent unbiased advice free of charge on equipment for installation or mobile use. Our MissionOur mission is simple. We strive to give our customers the best possible conference experience at the right price, at the right time, on time, every time. Company ProfileSteve Wall, the founder of Central Communication Services, has been in the Communications Industry since 1976. He has experience in voice and data communications, video communications and the specification and installation of integrated audio visual systems. He has completed projects for a broad spectrum of clients and budgets in small companies, medium sized enterprises and major corporate clients.
